I. The Equipment Financing Scheme to Defraud

18. Equipment leasing and equipment financing are financial programs available to businesses requiring significant equipment investments. The programs operate generally as follows:

- a. With equipment leasing, a lender buys a piece of equipment directly from a vendor, and then rents the equipment to the business for a monthly payment. At the end of the lease, the business can choose to purchase the equipment, renew the lease, or return the equipment.
- b. With equipment financing, the lender loans funds to the business for the purchase of the equipment. The lender pays the vendor directly, but the business owns the equipment, which generally remains encumbered until the business has paid the loan in full.

19. Loans and cash advances are financial programs available to businesses in need of working capital. The programs operate generally as follows:

- a. With a loan, a financing company provides funding in the form of a business loan or a working capital loan, which the business repays in predetermined increments over a set time period. Generally, business loans and working capital loans are secured by assets of the business, and the financing company charges interest on the outstanding balance of the loan.
- b. A cash advance is a discounted lump-sum purchase of future accounts receivable or future credit card receivables. The financing company provides money to the business in exchange for a certain share of the business's future accounts receivable or future credit card receivables. The business remits the purchased receivables to the financing company in predetermined increments over a set time period.

20. In or around 2008 or 2009, Business 1 built a training-sized ice rink at 216 Newbury Street, Peabody, Massachusetts (the Peabody Rink).

21. In or around October 2013, CASEY, through Casey Summit, purchased the Peabody Rink. CASEY operated the Peabody Rink under the name (i.e., d/b/a) Overtime Ice Rink.

22. After he purchased the Peabody Rink, CASEY hired Business 1 to perform repairs at the Peabody Rink.

23. On or about June 1, 2016, CASEY sold the Peabody Rink, and equipment associated with the Peabody Rink, to Business 2.

24. In or around October 2014, CASEY told Individual 4 that he owned a leasing company and was familiar with the equipment financing industry, and that he (CASEY) wanted to refinance his ice rink equipment to pull out the money that he had invested in the Peabody Rink.

25. Individual 4 agreed to allow CASEY to use Business 1 as an equipment supply company for lenders, and to receive money from lenders that Individual 4 would then pay to CASEY, after Individual 4 took a fee that was determined on a transaction-by-transaction basis by CASEY.

26. Between in or around October 2014 and in or around October 2016, CASEY made material misrepresentations (or caused such misrepresentations) to at least eleven (11) lenders in order to induce the lenders to provide financing for ice rink equipment, in the form of loans and leases, to Casey Summit and Casey Summit, LLC d/b/a Overtime Ice Rink, in amounts and on terms the lenders otherwise would not have made.

27. In addition, in or around August 2016, CASEY made material misrepresentations (or caused such misrepresentations) to at least four (4) financing companies to induce the companies to provide business funding, in the form of loans and cash advances, to Casey Summit and Casey Summit, LLC d/b/a Overtime Ice Rink, in amounts and on terms the financing companies otherwise would not have made.

28. The equipment financing that Casey obtained as part of the scheme included the loans listed below. The funding for each purported equipment purchase was issued on or about the dates set forth:

- a. $69,950 from Lender 1 for NER Ice Resurfacer 9000 Serial #01014 (10/27/2014);
- b. $75,259.38 from Lender 2 for NER Ice Resurfacer 9000 Serial #01017 (11/6/2014);
- c. $49,950 from Lender 3 for Zamboni model 500 Ice Resurfacer Serial #Z116-182 (1/28/2015);
- d. $46,950 from Lender 4 for Zamboni model 500 Ice Resurfacer Serial #Z119 (3/4/2015);
- e. $32,950 from Lender 4¹ for Portable Thermal Plus Ice Rink Defogger Model IRD-075-7 and Air Flow Diffuser (4/20/2015);
- f. $79,500 from Lender 5 for Zamboni Model 500 (4/29/2015);
- g. $79,950 from Lender 6 for Zamboni Model 500 Serial Number 1061 (5/28/2015);
- h. $79,950 from Lender 7 for Zamboni Model 500 (7/2/2015);
- i. $44,950 from Lender 8 for Portable Ice Dehumidification System Serial # 01017 (7/25/2015);
- j. $24,950 from Lender 9 for Thomsen Ice Edger Serial #3363, Serial #01017 (7/30/2015);
- k. $29,950 from Lender 10 for Thomsen Ice Edger Serial #1068 (8/20/2015);
- l. $23,450 from Lender 11 for Portable Dehumidification System Serial #2091 (9/21/2015);
- m. $31,439.38 from Lender 9 for Thomsen Ice Edger Serial # 01084 (9/17/2016);
- n. $34,950 from Lender 11 for Thomsen Ice Edger Serial # 01019 (9/30/2016);
- o. $39,450 from Lender 10 for Totalaire Portable Dehumidification System Serial #2289 (10/18/2016).

29. The business funding that Casey obtained as part of the scheme included the agreements listed below. The funding for each agreement was issued on or about the dates set forth:

- a. $35,000 cash advance from Lender 12, pursuant to Future Receivables Sale Agreement (8/3/2016);
- b. $53,149 loan from Lender 13, pursuant to Business Loan Agreement (8/18/2016);
- c. $12,000 cash advance from Lender 14, pursuant to Future Receivables Sale Agreement (8/19/2016);
- d. $45,000 loan from Lender 15, pursuant to Business Loan and Security Agreement (8/31/2016).

30. Because CASEY did not in fact have the financial ability to pay pursuant to the agreements described above, in many instances he defaulted on the payments. Then, because the collateral securing many of the agreements or the future receivables purchased did not exist, had been sold, had been pledged to multiple financing companies, or was virtually worthless, CASEY's defaults resulted in losses to the financing companies.

$34,950 from Lender 11 for Thomsen Ice Edger Serial # 01019

31. As one example, in or around September 2016, CASEY caused the submission of a financing application to Lender 11 for the purported purchase of an ice edger from Business 1 for approximately $35,000. Business 1 had in fact brokered the sale of an ice edger to CASEY, but the sale was in or around April 2015, and CASEY paid only $3,500 for the ice edger.

32. In connection with the financing application, CASEY caused to be submitted to Lender 11 materially false information, as well as fraudulent documents. The false representations and documents concerned the business and revenues of Casey Summit. In addition, CASEY prepared and submitted false tax returns and other tax documents, a false Business 1 invoice, and other false documents in support of the financing application.

33. On or about September 26, 2016, CASEY falsely confirmed for a Lender 11 representative in a recorded telephone call that the ice edger had been delivered and installed at the Peabody Rink on September 23, 2016.

34. Based upon the false and fraudulent information and documents that CASEY submitted in support of the financing application for the purported purchase of the ice edger, Lender 11 entered into an equipment finance agreement with Casey Summit. On or around September 30, 2016, Lender 11 paid $34,950 to Business 1, purportedly for the purchase of the ice edger. Unbeknownst to Lender 11, Individual 4 then transferred $34,000 of the financing proceeds to CASEY. Most of the funds advanced by Lender 11 were never repaid.

$45,000 Business Loan from Lender 15

35. As another example, on or about August 28, 2016, CASEY caused the submission of a financing application to Lender 15 for a small business loan to Casey Summit. CASEY falsely represented to Lender 15 that Casey Summit was in the ice rink business, even though Casey Summit sold the Peabody Rink to Business 2 on or about June 1, 2016.

36. In connection with the financing application, CASEY caused to be submitted to Lender 15 materially false information, as well as fraudulent documents. The false representations and documents concerned the business and revenues of Casey Summit, LLC d/b/a Overtime Ice Rink. In addition, CASEY prepared and submitted false tax returns and other tax documents, a false Deed of Sale containing the forged signature of Individual 5, and other false documents in support of the financing application.

37. Based upon the false and fraudulent information and documents submitted in support of the financing application, Lender 15 entered into a business loan and security agreement with Casey Summit LLC d/b/a Overtime Ice Rink. On or about September 1, 2016, Lender 15 transferred $44,100 into a Santander account held in the name of Casey Summit. Most of the funds advanced by Lender 15 were never repaid.

II. The False Tax Returns

38. The tax laws of the United States require every citizen and resident of the United States who receives income in excess of the minimum filing amount established by law for a particular tax year to make and file an income tax return for that tax year using IRS Form 1040, IRS Form 1040A or IRS Form 1040EZ. Each of those forms requires the tax filer to report their gross income for the tax year.

39. Under the tax laws, gross income means all income from whatever source derived, including but not limited to compensation for services, fees and gross income derived from a business.

40. Under the tax laws, when money is acquired via a loan and there is no good faith intent on the part of the recipient to repay the funds advanced, such funds are income and are taxable as such.

41. The funds CASEY fraudulently obtained from the financing companies were income to CASEY in the years in which he took the money.

42. In 2015, BGP made payments to or for the benefit of CASEY totaling approximately $308,292.

43. In 2016, BGP made payments to or for the benefit of CASEY totaling approximately $601,073.

44. The funds CASEY received from BGP and the funds paid on CASEY's behalf by BGP were income to CASEY in the years in which he received the money.

45. CASEY caused joint federal Form 1040 tax returns to be prepared for tax years 2014, 2015 and 2016 on behalf of himself and G.C.

46. CASEY and G.C. signed their 2014, 2015 and 2016 federal tax return Forms 1040 declaring under penalty of perjury that the information submitted in each of the returns was true, correct and complete.

47. CASEY caused his federal tax returns for 2014, 2015 and 2016 to be filed with the IRS.

48. For tax years 2014, 2015 and 2016, CASEY deliberately failed to report to the IRS the income he fraudulently obtained from financing companies.

49. For tax years 2015 and 2016, CASEY deliberately failed to report to the IRS the income he received from BGP.

III. The CARES Act Funds Scheme to Defraud

50. The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act was a federal law enacted in March 2020 to provide emergency financial assistance to Americans suffering the economic effects of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Economic Injury Disaster Loan Program

51. Among other things, the CARES Act expanded the SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) program to provide loans of up to $2 million to small businesses that suffered "substantial economic injury" from COVID-19. The EIDL program required recipients to use EIDL funds only on certain business expenses, including payments of fixed business debts and payroll.

52. Applicants for EIDLs used the SBA online portal to submit their application materials. The SBA servers that processed the EIDL applications were based in the state of Iowa.

53. To qualify for an EIDL, a business had to, among other requirements, be in operation prior to February 1, 2020. The EIDL application process required applicants to provide information concerning the affected business, including the number of employees, gross revenues, and costs of goods sold in the 12 months prior to January 31, 2020, as well as information about the business owner. Applicants electronically certified that the information provided was accurate.

54. The SBA relied on the information provided by the applicant to determine how much money the small business was eligible to receive in the form of EIDL funds.

The Paycheck Protection Program

55. The CARES Act also provided funding for forgivable loans to small businesses for job retention and certain other expenses through the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP).

56. In order to obtain a PPP loan, a qualifying business was required to submit a PPP loan application signed by an authorized representative of the business. The PPP loan application required the business, through its authorized representative, to acknowledge the program rules and make certain affirmative certifications. In the PPP loan application (SBA Form 2483), the small business, through its authorized representative, was required to state, among other things, (i) the number of individuals it employed and (ii) its average monthly payroll expenses. These figures were used to calculate the amount of a PPP loan the small business was eligible to receive. In addition, businesses applying for a PPP loan were required to provide documentation of their payroll expenses.

57. A PPP loan application was processed by a participating lender. If a PPP loan application was approved, the participating lender funded the PPP loan using its own money, but the loan was 100% guaranteed by the SBA. Data from the application, including information about the borrower, the total amount of the loan, and the listed number of employees, was transmitted by the lender to the SBA in the course of processing the loan.

58. PPP loans were required to be used to pay only certain expenses—including payroll costs, mortgage interest, rent, and utilities—and were forgivable if used for these expenses within a designated period of time and if a certain portion of the proceeds were applied toward payroll.

The Sector-Specific Relief Grant Program

59. The MGCC administered the Massachusetts COVID-19 business relief program, providing grants to qualified Massachusetts businesses. The Sector-Specific Relief Grant Program provided funding up to $75,000 for Massachusetts small businesses that had an exceptional need of cash relief. The CARES Act was the primary funding source for the Sector-Specific Relief Grant Program, with additional funds appropriated through the Commonwealth's Operating Budget for Fiscal Year 2021.

60. In addition to an application, businesses seeking Sector-Specific Relief Grant Program funds were required to submit (1) a certificate of good standing from the Secretary of the Commonwealth, (2) a complete 2019 Federal business tax return, and (3) complete 2019 Federal personal tax returns for each business owner with 20% or greater ownership. Applications and the required documents were submitted electronically through a third-party platform located in Missoula, Montana.

The Scheme to Defraud

61. Beginning in or around March 2020, and continuing until at least in or around May 2021, CASEY devised and executed a scheme to fraudulently obtain pandemic-related relief funds—including EIDL funds, PPP loans and Sector-Specific Relief Grant Program funds—by making materially false statements on EIDL and PPP loan applications, and on a Sector-Specific Relief Grant Program application, and by improperly using the fraudulently obtained loan and grant funds for personal expenses.

was true and correct. The application contained materially false information concerning the date on which the business opened, and the gross revenues for Mind Body between February 2019 and January 2020. As a result of the application, on or about June 3, 2020, the SBA awarded Mind Body a $39,000 EIDL.

66. In furtherance of the scheme, on or about April 5, 2020, CASEY filed a false and misleading EIDL application for his mother, C.C., doing business as Casey Cleaning.
